IOWA CITY, Iowa – During an annual press conference to discuss recruiting as part of National Signing Day, both Iowa head coach Kirk Ferentz and athletics director Gary Barta spoke publicly for the first time regarding the 13 Hawkeye football players who were hospitalized last week for Rhabdomyolysis.

Below are videos of both Ferentz and Barta addressing the situation. The video of Ferentz starts about two minutes into his opening statement during the press conference. The video with Barta begins at the conclusion of Ferentz speaking to the media.
