IOWA CITY, Iowa – The Iowa Hawkeyes made their final practice of fall camp open to the public at Kinnick Stadium on Saturday. Below are videos from the 11-on-11 portions, as well as post-practice interviews with defensive coordinator Phil Parker and offensive coordinator Greg Davis.

Two points of note: 1. The practice included simulated crowd noise throughout the entire scrimmage portion, so it would be wise to keep the volume to a minimum before viewing the three scrimmage videos. 2. Some of the video footage includes freshman running back Barkley Hill (No. 3 in the white jersey), who later injured his knee towards the very end of Saturday's practice.
